We are currently working with Sterling-Hoffman Life Sciences on a search. Their client, a privately owned medical device company based in Pennsylvania, is seeking a Quality Assurance Manager to join the team. This client specializes in cutting-edge immunoassay diagnostic kits and currently their rapidly growing global customer base includes leading scientists from universities, government organizations (US Department of Defense) and analytical laboratories.

The ideal candidate will have a minimum 5 years of working experience in a Quality Assurance environment and 3+ years at the management level. Knowledge of ISO 13485 and GMP is required.

This is a time sensitive search. If there is anyone in your network that you think would be a fit for this role, please forward this email or my contact information and I will connect them with the hiring manager.
